About the CMC

The Curriculum Materials Center, a division of the University of Central Florida Libraries, provides representative P-12 materials for pre-view, review, analysis, and circulation.

Services

Orientation and Reserves

Class orientations are available online.
<http://library.ucf.edu/cmc/Orientation/Default.php>

CMC materials can be placed on reserve by UCF faculty on a semester by semester basis. More information is available at <http://library.ucf.edu/CMC/Servfac.asp>

Online Resources

Check out the CMC Web site to find operating hours, take a virtual tour, find contact information and more.

Electronic Journals

The electronic journals on this list are, to the best of our ability to discern, full text, accessible without cost, and of interest to educators.
<http://library.ucf.edu/Databases/Subjects/>

Subject Bibliographies

Students often seek picture and fiction books that address a particular subject. You can search our database by subject, genre, or even awards.

Tutorial for Information Literacy in Education (TILE)

<http://library.ucf.edu/cmc/TILE/default.asp>

A tutorial designed to introduce you to information sources specific to education is located on the site. The tutorial contains several modules, so students can work through at their own pace.

Collections

The CMC contains approximately 28,000 items, and includes fiction and picture books, general resources, textbooks, multimedia, reference Materials and children magazines.

Fiction and Picture Books

The CMC purchases many award winning books, among them are Newbery, Caldecott, Coretta Scott King, and Scott O'Dell.

Textbooks

The CMC reviews textbooks that are on the State of Florida Instructional

General Resources

This collection contains resource materials that a teacher might use in the classroom (such as videos, games, manipulatives, or books with lesson plans and classroom activities). Folklore, poetry, biographies, and other nonfiction are also found here.
